FYI-- don't quote me, but a heads up...

The boss of UPT "may" be coming out. He & I are good friends, but something is definitely up.

Just wanted you to know....

Text: Rob- I definitely charge a little more, but that is because I am not desperate for work. My advanced degree is in adult education, and I ply my trade in the sky diving world. I really run good courses. That's why my name means something at UPT and USPA. Plus, I've been around 30 years (I was one of the first 500 tandem instructor's in the world), trained by Ted strong himself.

I was Coach Examiner number seven in the world, and the third person to be authorized to teach the IERC (after 10 years, there is only 12 of us in the world authorized to teach that.)
I will work with you on tuition, but we don't have any leeway with requirements.

But, he is considerably younger than me, and doesn't quite have my breath of experience. Meaning, I know where I can legally and physically cut corners.
